

DIPLOMAT ADMITS THERE WAS ROMANCE

Dr. Amador Says He Was Forced to Give Mrs. Gresham a Tongue-Lashing.

Dr. Amador, son of the President of Panama and Consul-General from that republic to the United States, made a statement today concerning the affair that led to his arrest last Tuesday on a charge of horsewhipping a woman. The complainant is Mrs. Barbara K. Gresham, widow of Rear-Admiral Fishburne and sister of William Gresham, U. S. A. She has brought against Dr. Amador two civil actions. In one she holds him responsible for her present condition; in the other she accuses him of attacking her with a whip. In each case she puts the damages at $100,000.

Dr. Amador's wife and two children live at No. 21 West One Hundred and Twelfth street. The doctor lives in a bachelor's apartment in the Long Acre Hotel. He shares these quarters with Count Manuel de Caserta, who was a captain of De Witt's scouts in the Boer war. The Count is married. His wife and family are in South America.

"There was a romance, of course," said Dr. Amador. "I'm not given to denying palpable facts, especially when a lady sees fit to make them public. But it was not a case of a man of the world wronging an ingenua. Mrs. Gresham has been twice widowed. I think it was a situation in which we must understand ourselves. Now, there is a tie in the affairs of men and women that leads on to love and fortune when too much seriousness is attached to them. I was married, and she knew it. The day arrived when I said 'adieu'.

"The next move was the service upon me of papers in the civil actions. This falling of the desired effect, my arrest followed. Let me tell you that I did not lash her with a whip, but I did with my tongue. For this I am sorry. But I was provoked. To have what was a pleasant affair and with attempts at extortion, to be hounded about town—why, it was most exasperating."

MOTHER'S DIVE SAVES BABE.

Brings Two-Year-Old to Surface—Clings to Boy Till Rescued.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Margaret Buchanan, of Mill Vale, saw her two-year-old son Harold fall into a creek yesterday as she sat in her window. She ran to the river bank and dove in by force, kicking and struggling, where the child lay on the bottom after going down a second time. She brought the babe to the surface and grasping the limb of an overhanging tree, held on with one hand while with the other she kept the boy above water till help came. Once on land she fainted, and her condition is serious.

Our Closefitting Our Concave
Collar Shoulder

The Vital Importance of Our "Concave" Shoulder and "Closefitting" Collar

Nothing will so mar the lines or the fit of a garment as a poorly-made drooping shoulder. Without a perfect shoulder the result is an imperfect coat. The solution of the problem lies in our "Concave" Shoulder. It is the pivotal point upon which the successful fit and balance of our coats turn.

The "Concave" Shoulder is our own invention; its basic principle is at a direct tangent to that which governs in usual ready-for-wear clothes. It is modelled and shaped by hand and gives the desired height and breadth without exaggeration, at the same time eliminating all superfluous wadding. It is incorporated together with our "Closefitting" Collar in all of our

Fifteen Dollar Suits & Overcoats

The suits take form in a series of single and double-breasted models of conventional or radical styles, medium length and long coats, with deep centre vents or no vents. Fashioned of black tulle and velvet finished cassimeres in monotonous, stripes and overplaid.

Overcoats take form in the shaped back Chesterfields, with centre vents, of gray fabrics; top coats, three-quarter coats and other models.

Other Fall Suits and Overcoats $15 to $40.

RICH MEN'S NAMES WERE PUBLIC BAIT

Seventeen Millionaires Named in Suit Filed Against International Mercantile Agency.

An echo of the scandal attendant upon the crash of the International Mercantile Agency a year ago has been followed by a suit against sixteen of the most prominent men in this country and Canada, and also against Thomas N. McCauley, the Canadian who organized the corporation. The suit was filed by the McClure Adjustment Company, and is now being heard in the Supreme Court.

Everyone of the defendants was a director of the agency and it is alleged by the McClure company that each conspired with McCauley, who fled the country soon after the crash, to sell to the investing public its stock, which they knew to be worthless.

The individual fortunes of the wealthy defendants are rated at from $100,000 to $1,000,000. Henry K. Pomeroy, president of the New York Stock Exchange, and also M. E. Belding, the well-known importer, lead among the local millionaires, and then come S. E. McClinnon, a mercantile magnate, Robert MacKay, a $7,000,000 capitalist of Montreal, John MacFarlane, a wholesale paper manufacturer of Montreal, George W. Sadler and James Robinson of Montreal, W. K. George, of Toronto, Leonard W. Baldwin, M. M. Belding, Jr., of New York, and Charles A. Henderson, of New York, Edward J. Gould, of Bradford, John Platt, and W. K. George, of Toronto, and DeLois P. Phelps, of Chicago.

The charge is set up that the reputation and prominence of these men were the bait with which McCauley hooked the public, and especially the clients of the McClure company.

In this action only $100 is sought to be recovered from the seventeen millionaires, but it was explained yesterday by Duncan McClure, President of the McClure company, and George B. Sidener, its general counsel, that the case was more of a test than anything else, although they felt sure of ultimate obtaining judgments for the entire $1,000,000.

1,250 Winter Overcoats,

Top Coats & Suits

We believe this to be the best offer we have ever made.

The Winter Overcoats consist of the new styles, Louis XIV. Coat—semi-form fitting—made in fancy mixed goods. Also conservative Overcoats of fine Kersey and Frieze. Every Coat worth from $15 to $20. The Top Coats are in the fashionable grays, made with velvet collars, and are semi-form fitting.

The Suits are of stylish worsteds, in fancy mixed effects; also plain black. They have the snap, style and swing to them of merchant tailor effects, and are the best values you ever saw.

These special values are secured by the purchase of several surplus lots from a high-grade Rochester manufacturer at one-third to one-half less than their former prices. These concessions were granted by the manufacturer in order to relieve him of stock on hand, so as to prepare for a new season.

300 More of Those Handsome Black Voile Skirts at $10

A sale of skirts very similar to these three weeks ago created unusual interest here. They were splendid skirts, too—but these are a shade better, the voile being a trifle finer and trimmed with taffeta folds. They are all

Fitted with Drop Skirts of Black Silk of an extra heavy and unusually lustrous quality; this drop is finished with a deep corded ruffle. The skirt itself is a new cluster, side-pleated model finished with two narrow and one wide band of chiffon taffeta.

The picture fairly illustrates the skirt—a style that will be in vogue throughout the season. Wish we had a greater quantity, for the limited number will scarcely supply the demand.

New $39.75 Fall Suits, $25.

Three quarter model coat suit, exquisitely tailored, lined in best quality satin, with the much-desired mannish collar and revers, coat buttoned through. The skirt is a particularly handsome model, box plaited, tapering to waist—all the new mannish mixtures.
